

80th Birthday

Almon G. Clegg

On Friday, January 28th, Almon G. Clegg will be celebrating his 80th birthday with a family celebration. He was born January 28, 1903 in Heber City, the son of George A. Clegg and Sarah E. Giles Clegg. He is a great grandson of Henry Clegg, one of the early settlers in the Valley.

As a young man, he served a mission in the Central States Mission, spending most of his time in Texas. He later married Geneva Denison from Manti, who at the time was teaching school in Heber.

They have been blessed with six children, Dennis of Heber City; Vern and Calvin of Salt Lake City; Alene Misback of Provo; Almor H. of Rockaway, New Jersey; and LaVar of Yorba Linda, California. They have 35 grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren.

Mr. Clegg has lived all his life in Heber City. He has worked in the mines, done cement work and operated a grocery store. Most of his life he has been a dairy farmer.

He has held many church positions including being a counselor in a Bishopric and a member of the High Council. He has also had many teaching positions including teacher of his High Priest group, which position he now holds.

The family is observing his birthday with a family dinner.
